Side Notes: This is a modified version of my arrangement from my Sacred Hymns Book #3. It is a simplified version that includes many of the same elements from the first verse. It is meant to be a stepping stone to help a piano player progress to harder music. There are a few spots which require some movement in the left hand to be able to combine arpeggios but with some practice they should be doable. The original tune for this song was written in the 1700's and is known by the tune name of "Nettleton".
